

Utility Requirements

Before disconnecting service between October 1 and April 30, your natural gas and electric utility company must give you:

- Notice of disconnection
- Payment plan options to stop a disconnection
- Appeal rights if you and the utility cannot agree on a CWR payment plan
- Energy assistance and weatherization providers in your area
- No-cost and low-cost ways to save energy
- A Third-Party Notice form

Help Reading or Understanding Notices

If you have trouble understanding utility bills and notices, fill out a Third-Party Notice form. This tells your utility to send copies to the person you choose so you don't miss important dates.

The Third Party is not responsible for paying your bills.

Keep the Heat On - Reconnect Service
October 1 - April 30

What is the Cold Weather Rule?

It's the law in Minnesota, state statute 216B.096

The Cold Weather Rule (CWR) helps keep your heat on from October 1 through April 30.

Your gas or electric provider can turn off your heat during the winter - stay connected.

You must make and keep an agreeable CWR payment plan with your natural gas or electric utility company to get CWR protection. As long as you make your payments, you are protected until April 30.

If you have a payment plan and you cannot make a payment as agreed upon because your situation has changed make sure you contact your utility right away to request a change to the payment plan. Don't just not make a payment.

If your gas or electric service is disconnected, the utility must work to restore service within 24 hours, once you agree to a payment plan.

Cold Weather Rule payment plans end on April 30. Contact your natural gas or electric company and request to continue your payment plan.

Am I eligible?

CWR protection is only available to residential customers.

All natural gas and electric companies must offer CWR protection. If you use an alternate fuel and must have electric to power your furnace, you are eligible for CWR protection.

You are eligible for CWR protection if you agree to and keep a payment plan. Payment plans are based on household income.

How do I sign up for the CWR?

Contact your electric or natural gas company to find out if you are eligible and to sign up for a CWR payment plan.

You can set up a CWR payment plan at any time during the CWR season. Contact your gas or electric company and ask for a CWR payment plan.

If you and your utility cannot agree on a payment amount, ask your natural gas or electric company for an appeal form or contact the MN PUC for assistance at 800-657-3782.

If you do not keep your CWR payment plan, the utility may disconnect your service.

Do all utilities follow the Cold Weather Rule?

No. Delivered fuels, such as fuel oil, propane, and wood, are not covered by the CWR.

If you need electricity to keep your heat on, you may apply for CWR protection with your electric company

What if I rent and pay for my own heat?

If the natural gas or electric service is in your name and affects your heat, you can apply for CWR protection.

What if I can't make my scheduled payment?

Contact your gas or electric company immediately to discuss a different payment plan. If you do not make your payments, your service may be shut off.

ANNUAL NOTICE For Military Personnel Minn. Stat. § 325E.028

Minnesota law requires that customers and utilities make utility payment arrangements for military service personnel in the following situation. If a member of a household has been issued orders into active duty, deployment, or change in duty station and the residential customer meets specific income criteria, the Kenyon Municipal Utility must not disconnect the utility service of that qualifying residential customer due to nonpayment.

An application for a utility payment agreement must include copies of income statements and proof of military orders as described in the law. The Kenyon Municipal Utility may shut off utility service for nonpayment if an application does not include the required copies of income statements and proof of military orders as required by Minn. Stat. 325E.028.
